About the author

A Polish tech-absurdist and writer 3.0 beta. Runs litexperimental projects including Twitter's #hashtagstory and Google-translated fiction and One Picture Stories. Guest writer at TeleRead, Publetariat and Fiction Matters.

His zany, ironic short stories are like ultra-slick easy-to-collapse gadgets - showing how uncertain our lives are, if we too much depend on technology.

Believes in mobile e-books. They can bring the joy of reading to those, who don't feel like consuming books the old-fashioned way. His dream is to be a default fiction author for any mobile device with eReading capabilities.
