True love

For me the greatest transgression, error, error unheard of, even grave sin of the heavens, if this can be so called, would no doubt take this world people who have not experienced true love.

Now that we are here, love it.

True love is like a current of the river, which continues to draw people love the fullness of life. It is like the ocean, filled with peace and that when you find it, you'll know about the world as much as anyone so far. You will have plenty of faith and future plans. You will have a spark of hope. You'll adore everything, for everything. You will find love in the other person, and by that other person in the whole world and even beyond. Impossible not exist.

Met. Niiby nothing, but anything but shine in their eyes the light of hope in their hearts great faith in themselves, in their ideal future a few, and perhaps a family, everything in their relationship with anybody, the combination of inspiration with love and the virtues of divinity.

Their hands met, their mouths zespoily together on creating just a few moments of something ... something in the heart: faith, with love, great faith in true love. How do they both know they are just for me? And after that, all this combined with great intuition, backed up by the happiness and joy, spontaneity and surrounded podsycone blissful peace meant that in their hearts permanently hosted a thought and a strong, unbridled, powerful, beautiful blooming belief in themselves have years:

-This is,

-This is,

-It is this.

ON alimentary haze is not Wielbark wisdom , on at one stroke taskmaster is not fragment grade palatably , and on hayseed trust.

The symbol of love is red, or pink, and it's because red symbolizes life, and formed by a combination of pink with red white: white, that is purity and harmony, with a red, or temperament, fiery emotion and enthusiasm.

True love is, and maintained by the real life.

True love is the fulfillment of dreams for a better tomorrow and more beautiful and fuller now.

Believe me. Such miracles ... are formed only through deep faith in each other and w... true love.

Although love can not create ourselves, even the best, but to me it goes to something else, to evoke memories of saturated moments of love, ongoing for some time. I think that's something that it is some refreshment, perhaps attracting magnetism truth, divine love, light and beauty. I believe in it.

True love seems to be unreachable, and if space. But for someone in her sincere believer it is the most realistic and attainable, or at least much more.

What is learned forever. Love lasts forever, and good always wins. Yes, in theory, in practice, however, may be slightly different, although I think slightly as all these above-mentioned case, the ideas and the great things they want to make the most of the world, they want to continue doing this for us and in us.

Loneliness of long-term, in a very positive way changes the rights, provided, however, that it has a great belief in himself and that true love, and wyśnione fairy is real. Then the man that lives by faith in love and seeks to ensure that when it has found, can someone with some paragraphs read: _tak, this is you-as it shapes, to be everything for someone.

There is strength in love, let alone for real. „Love everything vanquishes“.

When you Are lonely and you do not have all day to do, it is a sign that love is near, and fill to the brim this time pure love, desire and longing. When a lot of your time is "empty" is a sign that you have prepared and have plenty of space for the arrival of love.

Paddling on the wave of change brought about by true love, Do not resist the "waves", is the fundamental duty of every man, that man was, and its great, right at the same time.

"Love is something everyone thinks they know everything and know little. This is something for which people are still chasing, and do not know for what. Is the force that makes us live.

This power gives the power in the form of hope, the power that conquers all after all. That something is still composing in the souls of the madly in love more and more beautiful symphonies.

This trend, which draws on inspiration, inspiration, good dreams, knowledge of everything and all knowledge about themselves, above all, for whom life is love and love is life"-part book:

Przemek Kowal:

„Thirdly, and let him talk, and you continue to do what you want“

„FALLEN IN LOVE ENGAGE „

Can ever wondered whether that might arise from the combination of two people with a positive attitude, very positive attitude clearly emanating from the madly in love with a pair? First of all, discover valuables, a vast, wonderful richness of each of those very lucky people, by the second, dear / person in love by her beautiful eyes and great personal charm, covering the costliness of the soul reserved only for each other-an excerpt:

Przemek

Kowal:

„Dictionary of foreign words“

It's love opened my eyes to the truth, which was hiding for years. And were it not for that damn forbidden myself, and I am no longer faithful to the time a sizable, if not for ... but it is my sorry for myself. That love to reinvent ourselves our smallness or greatness. I first discovered it systematically.

What is freedom without love and money?

What a dream without the strength and faith in them,

What suffering without consolation,

What a great comforter without a sincere intent:

This is freedom without meeting.

And what is love without freedom, and being myself?
Pretending,
Artifice,
Falsity,
And what is money without the other person?
Frequent chybieniem beyond the purpose and fulfillment.

Here's how the mind of a person with a very positive attitude: one of his ears are still flowing information. They flow like a wave, the brain, but really the brain and what is interesting: all this information: good, bad or nourish the brain, and poor flow and flow further neutralized by the other ear. Good and, in turn, are reinforced by his positiveness in your mind, then the excess is released from the mind of this person attracted equally great content and events, if not more beautiful. Very often it happened and now that they have already attracted many such true love.

If the Lord is not concerned I find true love, but it let me find true, deep faith that it exists for me and I find that her once, because without that feeling you can not live, and this faith is able to compensate for its absence, because deep faith will be nourished by the future great love, if I spelled.

Often finds great faith in the slim body and a great love in an attractive, shapely and alluring superficial the other person.

Could it be so that the awareness derives its knowledge from someone who is high? Someone a bit lower to God? Is it enough to just want to draw from them the knowledge? Is it enough just to set it? Is it enough to get rid of his own thoughts to their ideas? Could it could reach the stars and immerse themselves in the examination, love, love the mood, the atmosphere of love? Did you fall in love with this world was all just for this knowledge?-Would be able to bring the same to someone on the summit of his understanding? - Could this be a way to connect to someone for everyone? Could this knowledge be able to take over but that someone from a piece of the love with which the world has not heard and not felt? Finally: Is it possible to thus be the ideal lover and partner, who, with his sole will create a very successful relationship? Really?

IS NOTHING THAT CAN AND I'm nobody, BUT IS EVERYTHING

Wrong, if you're;)

And I'm nobody CAN, BUT YOU CAN BE ALL FOR ME.

CONNECTION anything BUILDS ALL ALWAYS SOMETHING AS IS ABOVE ALL.

I have advice for you:

Even when not talking to that person.

Even if you saw it only once.

Even if nothing you do not know about it, but if you feel... this sound conviction in , that it can be it. It listen it internal voice and always when anybody will undermine say for it other you I am busy /busy because it know it can be it. It teaches this history.

I love you.

How do you love?-Man asked, surprised at his cousin's wedding.

Why me?-Asked-I love you for how you look at me.

I love you for how you look at me when I look at another man.

I love your eyes, and thin-skinned for that, I try to pay attention to you.

I love thy labors-you reward them a hundredfold.

I love you.

The key to gaining knowledge is a great attitude on that one, what you read, one could say too much or too little, or that he could also lie. Read quite so little, a little superficial, close the book, then silence, forget about the whole world and focus on infinity, focus on the knowledge of the outside world, knowledge of the cosmos, knowledge hidden in you, because you are all the wisdom of the world and the need to discover them, and you can discover in this way: reading a little, a lot of contemplating. In the silence, you can also find true love and happiness in himself, and that the person they are looking for and that you provide them the highest quality.

No matter where you live, how much money you have to have contacts with the family, what it zajmowałaś, it's important that you are, and that you want.

Even the greatest happiness unshared with the latter, beloved person may be worth little.

It is difficult to intensify in itself so much strength, which can easily give a true love and the other person.

I can not say that you (true love) brings his high hopes, but that it binds you its all I can hope now.

I can not say that you have any binding, even very hopeful, because I always say that you (true love) brings his all hope is not any.

Here is a short story of the most beautiful girl on this planet. It was the most beautiful girl on this planet: won any beauty contests, won the vote at the biggest dream of all men, but it was one dilemma: not had a boyfriend, or rather would not like: yes, it might seem because almost did not seek, waiting for this one and received a reply after two years: the angel appeared to her and said prior to her favorite mirror, which so often confided to their worries and grief, as if her thoughts wyczytując said: but there is this one, only, and behold, his name and said ... - departed from its mirrored vision.

After a week of this incident more than a simple do go out for walks. Precious years of wearing it, but her eyes shone with brilliance and impossible to niepodrobienia unnoticed. I had many admirers but all refused, because a similar glow, the guidelines unless the guardian angel had to see this one. She walked through the dark alleys. Always on one side of the wall was clear.

Another week went longer fuller faith and what it has observed that this satisfied the: observed on the wall, a small grayish-gold inscription with the name of her great future lucky, who will give his heart.

The next week was like: appeared again where it was written, but just behind him hid in the bushes and watched the course of events. There have already lasted over an hour and nothing happened, then they began to gather young people from the sprays. They were distinguished by their markedly more positive than the stories that are sometimes heard that the hooligans. Half an hour passed when she fell asleep. She slept for a moment, to wake up, and her name was already Chosen along the Great Wall, is also very high. This was the inscription very visible and colorful, eminently distinguished among the grays, which is usually here and now reigned. Already emerged from behind the bushes and went dressed in a bright white gown, and there was there was nobody at that time, but ... At the end of this wall was a man and a few other tall men who laughed at him. He, in turn, quietly, almost artistic standing in the place created its graffiti ... but there was no name of the lucky, or anyone else who's supposed to be designed.

This was the inscription: „true love“. Approached him, and he noticed her account of the eye, still nothing done. Probably waiting for a miracle. This miracle came. She put her delicate hand on his shoulder and without a word kiss in the mouth. Could it be found? Could they both found true love? I leave the answer you dear readers, but I wish you from my part that you believe in true love, like him, although others did not believe in it, and you can become a big lucky, what little. But how I know? Or maybe you know this? Or maybe something you invented, what was the finale of the story? I salute;)

Believe in true love, that I meet, if only because of the fact that you could not know whether If you did not dry it from she in hard for you power moments exactly, moments, and if you do not dry from she still all this, what for essential life it? Is the latter, the only one created for you the person you meet, if you believe in it.

I know that I will go to heaven, that's for sure, but what would be heaven without you?-Sometimes really love the atmosphere and what is worse the pain, yes, the suffering, I do not know how, but there had to find a place for him and . It would be sad, desperately.

Think of yourself better than anyone might think about you.

Believe in yourself more than anyone now believes in you.

Keep in so much love for someone, if anyone out there is for you.

Appeal to novice writers, and lovers madly in love:

Let thy words written or spoken, even when the dust settles on him: let him be still golden.

Let your love be so thrilling and timeless as the moment the biggest fall in love, even when the dust settles on it gray time.

Had it not been for the support of an attractive pair of his flesh, that the marriage broke up very quickly, except that in their minds would see more beauty.

Today is understood, though late, this may be true, but it is understood that true love: that she is my only real opportunity and real hope and salvation, that she alone can give me all you need is soul, and perhaps more.

True love always emerges from its counterfeits, less close copies. Love is always true in the end emerges. When the time comes it will win everything, if it proves to be true.

My beloved, and my subconscious

. I know that now.

You have the subconscious, with whom I worked so many years, finally BY acted for me, for my benefit at last, this and that unless reprogrammed much better, because you just met.

Now that i know.

You are my better subconscious, the more perfect you wonder, is it because you are better, much better.

You like to be unconscious at least several months, I had the best conditions to work its wonder, now that her "little" is missing the essence of your perfect. Yes.

You're perfect for me. You are a dream come true. Oh, how many of you love. How much faith. How many perspectives of how many opportunities. How much more beautiful. How many of femininity. God! What a treasure! Tell me what I done to deserve you, because I can afford for many.

With golden brightness of my subconscious emerges a beautiful girl. She was dressed in a golden, airy, gently flapping in the wind the summer garments against the red-gold skies and red sunset, but it was not the west. It was the east: the best and most beautiful feelings and east of the Sun, a new and better day a much better future and the reality of what has not yet seen. Why? - Because she looked at me, one, the only time, but someone looked very balanced, but madly in love, and I knew and felt that it was this one, the only one.

When you want something great to do for the world and themselves at the same time: cherish the love that you can find. Take care of her as the greatest treasure, it proves to be true, and if you have / had confidence that this is true, then do everything that flourished for days and nights grow and we are still in our hand, that lived and shone like a sapphire is still constantly. When you turn, you have not found / Forest, is believe in it deeply, that it can find. Love is a great deal for the world, the more real.

In love there are number of important pre-love, but rather, in what quality it comes to us. Feelings are important, not the number.

Some of the words and the song really "digest" for a long time, for example: "as I tell her that".

"Waiting for true love"

When you show up, even after many years, this true love, the number suddenly cease to be reckoned with. This starts the count here and now. Will be important every moment. This would happen if each moment spent together is greater than each of the years spent alone.

Give me strength Lord, or true love. Strength is the foundation for life. Faith and strength is always very necessary. And we love it.

True love always involves a change for the better.

To truly love is repealed sky, birds merrily sing, feed the fruit trees, and their hearts to give a true feeling of the hot nectar of life.

Do what you love, and has arranged everything. Love this one and only, all the advantage lay Thy will continue if it proves true love.

Only true love can make it clear where and how much is really worth and what is the value of our people.

The greatest delight the heart, the best balm to the soul and delight the hearts and consciousness of feeling ... it is, clearly, at least temporarily, at least for some time that somebody thinks of us, let alone consciousness, and the thought that someone loves us , not to mention true love. I know one thing: there is no greater happiness on earth and I do not know whether it would be anywhere.

Do not worry. Once you find true love, a moment of boredom may be a great merit and worth much. You tell me that again, do not get up for work. Do not worry love is there to give great hope that when I come back, someone very much in love with you again, will wait with dinner by candlelight. Believe me. This gives a great kick and a great motivation to act.

You tell me that at work again, you do not have to speak to someone. Do not worry. And this dear person? - Forgot about it. Believe me, being so happy and cheerful, and at her side, being with friends, or colleagues at work: a few moments longer be able to change everything for Thy wonderful benefit. Again return to favor. That's what true love can.

It is true, even in true love there is no mis world or the world-famous model. It's true. No, because there is something more is mis mister universe and the universe: as always, if it is true love: each party is all for each party.

I sit and talk with God. Silence fills my mind and my heart is focused on catching something, some kind of knowledge, inspiration, some certainty, some wisdom. I sit for hours already. The wind flutters the leaves on the trees, it gets dark, thought little, little people, the streets empty, just me and God and emptiness. I sit in another room a long while now and I very want to hear something, but I am calm and patient and silenced, that something definite, something irrefutable and most important in this life I hear.

After these hours, the silence of my thought came to me finally, but as if through a fog, though vague, but I have very clear and obvious: nothing matters but love, true love is a mountain of meaning and wisdom of the most important link.

The first, which the human soul should, indeed must do so after getting to heaven is a deep dream and wish and deep desire that through his mouth forever speak silence paragraph Saints of Christ the King And why-when you ask, I will answer soon, as it does not you know?-Each drop of love is extremely valuable and can not be simply offend. More: it does not offend you. And why I am speaking about heaven, I just should have done here on earth taking care of real love, which has much in common with the divine love in heaven from the top, at least at some level, those in which an excess of happiness can still accept a man's body here on Earth, from the other person.

About how important love is you can see the reflections severely over the group games for years. And all the sweetness is able to repair and if redress.

Do you love may be love, bad, yes, but only when it is disturbed the harmony between giving and taking, when much more will be gave, and finally, when it gave up too much, morbidly. . And as we fight, overcome this disease, this ailment? - Quiet days, the time for reflection, counseling psychology-perhaps. But I would suggest being more sensitive to issues such as sensitivity, passion, spiritual closeness that they are healthy, natural, unforced both parties that they are simply human, and spontaneous;to permit them to be themselves, above all, and only then to be with someone, but on the basis of being together, that couple were still two people, even very madly in love with each other, even if it was true love. And this is only true love is the true fulfillment of the two, and lives life to the fullest Singly and together, when both parties allow themselves to be. It is very important: the naturalness and freedom.

Sincere confession:

You know my dearest dear, that even if either I like it even more like you you. On all my preferences affect you. In all the faces I see your uniquely charming, unique and lovely. And every beautiful women, which to me more like it, I like more just because it reminds me the more you love.

Each of the most beautiful face, which made me the most allure with its beauty, has always guided my thoughts to you baby.

Every person is created in order to love and be loved.

I do not want to know what others have.

Wants to know what you think about me.

I do not want me worked, but only you were here: you were my true love. That's all I want.

Trust true love. She knows what he's doing.

Do not be afraid. Everything will be fine, because after all we are together.

Only true love can truly stand up despite the strong pressure of time and advancing.

The entire 8 months and still I was still set to write. I tried to again and again to write something ambitious and above average, I tried to express some part of his personality. I wanted to write what was the most authentic and sincere, I wanted my writing was inspired by love, and very often it was. And I would like now to this wnikiem to something good in my life, finally something really good and noble.

For what, and can be a lonely sailor who should drink? - Do not know? - Only for the health-Ladies and why-ask-how's that? - Do not know? - Because for the lone sailor, that love can bring enormous opportunities and possible magnitude of an improved outlook for the future and beautiful life moments. And for what drinks, if not a much better future? So drink to the bottom, we are alone, even if only temporarily.

Do not be afraid to get me to believe in us, for us both.

Over the years I've lived in slavery, slavery thoughts, actions and words and created his own way freely active, free will itself, only to be used to earn true love. A which over the years kept me alive? - deep faith that somewhere you are.

I want you to be very natural for me and let me be myself.

True love weapon itself.

True love makes everything easier, more transparent, clearer and brighter.

The years of waiting for the miracle of love, the love that is true, hardly discourages me is still waiting for a miracle. I still have great courage to believe in this miracle, because I know that it is always worth believing in something so beautiful.

True love is able to easily digest all that bad in the relationship between human beings.

To this day, I thought the best thing as known by me on this planet, no matter what will cierpie3nie and pain. I was wrong, I still have a few moments of true love has changed this state of love and took the place of pain. Yes. Already these few moments. Worse is, however, unhappy in love. Then the pain and suffering could intensify in the heart, depending on the gravity and duration of love.

If I had killed himself in love, that killed me.

I would not have any chance. Any love which will ever be put in the care of itself. That's for sure. Do not let that left me. That's for sure. If I had it permanently lost, I would die from exhaustion.

It is also uncertain. Kill yourself in love, how to kill the man himself.

Only You Can rise above mediocrity me in the eyes of others, just like that, with the lightness of a feather floating on the background of a dove cloudless sky, with greatly elevated the importance of written on his face: true love.

You are only created to pamper me with his smile, always and everywhere, when I just miss a little of your heat, just like that, just.

Only you need whenever you visit what is true love for someone written between the lines, even in the most dreadful horror.

You are the only hope and great faith in the fact that it is you are my true love. This belief, combined with hope can give only one, the only person in the world, only that true love is also created for this one, the only entity worldwide, in turn, created only in order to continually learn from the great gifts of grace which every great love is, was and will be.

You're the only one, the only one that makes even the biggest of the biggest companies are always my biggest ... biggest star, and Luba.

Only this one, the only person that makes her feel when we have absolutely everything to be happy, no matter even if they're financial situation: and besides, what does it matter.

Love truly able to work for everything that is beautiful, harmonious, creative constructive and extremely dignified and noble in the mind of only one, the only original in this pretty circumstances and the most charming and always timeless principles that are of worth, no matter who we are, after Simply we are worthy of the best.

True love: only she can, and must overcome adversity on the road to fulfillment. It just has this great power, as well as reinforcing the increasingly self-confidence when he begins to discern even the outline of the final objective is to pool the spiritual.

True love has such a very constructive and creative forces, the force of nature, like a leaf from the bottom of the forest, which continues to climb and overcome any adversity, and to finally get a taste of this treasure, which is light, divine light.

The greatest kingdom of the two persons deprived of true love between them is small, not to say, I say, than a sand castle on the water, but built into a friendship, and what that to disintegrate and fall apart, because friendship is. The same, being treated reversed I can easily clip to a castle made of concrete or the kingdom of gold, what with the fact that the kingdom will remain, since love will not stand because it was not. What is a kingdom without like taste and expression, devoid of shapes and colors, more beautiful than gold, which is always true love two people at the leaves even the simplest activities together. The same rule odnoś literally everything, and that the Bible says it out loud, and I just summarize: everything is nothing without love, but now nothing, and vanity combined with true love absolutely everything.

Prohibit truly love, how to live truly banned.

In imagination, I was everywhere, even and perhaps especially in space. Everywhere, in only one purpose: finding true love. Sometimes you have to nalatać lot to find her, or just be lucky, or just help with the universe: a hand written on purpose at a young age to find her, without a shadow of doubt that this one.

When you can not have long to find his one and only love, knowing that the fate of preparing you provided something wonderful, the best for you, because składałeś and paid for this great kindness which you have already met so many long years, and justice in the world, there is . Fate is fair. To each according to merit-teaches the Bible.

I felt great grace muśnięcia true love, and it was only because I have written so far, as I wrote, just about true love.

For a long time I lived only out of necessity. I now live only for the faith in true love.

"Braveheart" - this is one hundred percent true. It's amazing and frightening at the same time that the heart is so courageous, brave, persistent, if not resistant, although it is not true that he accepts all times, injuries and suffering. Everything the heart assumes. So to split with their anxieties and worries of the brain, for example, but not suffer the same tortures, and other parts of the body completely at the highest level of release from pain. Up clutching his heart.

Only true love finally be recent.

I want to get away from here and not come back no more, if it turns out ... that I want to get away from here and so I saw: if you love truly exists only in fairy tales. And I know that it can be found everywhere. You have only happiness.

I would like to offer you the fruits of my suffering because they are among the most important and valuable, and next to my heart treasures.

True love always stand.

A story about an unusual angel. I'm sitting like this every day at a computer in the room, a comfortable chair and passionately, as never thought about his vocation and the meaning of life. I wonder on what I am doing well here, what was at stake, but above all whether it is someone else with a similar situation as me, in other words, if anyone has or had a similar dilemma, and I found the answer. Suddenly, staring at the beauty of nature, I fell, I do not know when a deep and thrilling in the sense of a dream. He was so natural and real, seemed so possible that I did not know whether it's a dream, or waking. The white, dazzling white, with the elements, with tones of gold clearly saw the emerging of an angel. He walked with a candle, she was one herself, as well as an angel. He still walked straight around the sky a lot, for me to check the beautiful female tagged individuals. He still walked straight, but sometimes only slightly and leaned clearly looked sideways, looked for the ladies and what they also saw him be watched. The angel looked at his eye clearly stimulated as well covetous. He then stopping for a moment, but he left without saying a word, why? - This answer: he had in mind a noble and great. He wanted something big and unusual, timeless end, he wanted someone to appreciate him, finally, finally, finally, here was his great idea: he wanted to be great, a much greater reward in heaven, than the other, when one day to reach the heavenly realm, and it was he sought. It's got to know that with gray! Reveal the big, brass gate, and before it became St. Peter, but without the keys. The angel came to him at a distance of 3 meters, the distance like the proverbial three-meter stick. He stood silently, his face appeared to grimace, like pain, despair, light in the corners of the mouth, and his eyes shone clear ... loneliness. Peter said with indignation:

-what are you doing here now?

-as it summoned me, so I came-replied the angel clearly surprised-no, a mistake-Peter-but insisted ...

and where thy other half, or half-is it not describes them on the way, surely noticed, certainly felt something.-yes, I felt very strongly-angel said these great words, which clearly brought him relief, and the conversation changed completely after this as Peter said:

-so whom? - met on the way two wonderful girls, it was when I stopped them, and my heart revived big dreams, plans and hopes related to them, but above all a great feeling. Met on the way many beautiful creatures, but these ... of these is not equal. Are wonderful.-And so are yours?

- How's that? - After all, I stand at heavens gates. - No, you are not. Do not let us, you left this world without true love, because we all believe me throughout this paradise had lofty thoughts, but one, but very sincere and genuine, you were really happy, and he had to tell someone that is beautiful unique.

- Is beautiful, what you say but ... what am I doing here? - as I found here? - you are here silent. You are, but you are silent. Fell asleep, and this dream of a great and true love in Thy dream led you here-it's true, because I wanted to find her in heaven, not on Earth, so you have to change it., And change for you.

I will give you a great favor that you will find no problem a great and true love, finally, to meet the person who is your intended, or, those that are created for you, it might happen that there are few, but you will know the truth soon.

I woke up and felt a sudden, unbeatable so far in my heart burst of enthusiasm and faith that everything will be fine, even a shadow of doubt, pure hope, faith and harmony and a great love of the future gave me great strength henceforth to live in each moment.

I have thought, even at the gates of paradise, but they did not want to accept me even if I had been away from here. St. Peter, for example, says he does not want loner that does not want me yet where I have to, go to suffer. They do not want me to be terribly bored, niece, I fell into despair.

They say that something that I still miss despite the many treasures, but which does not say. Said for it, that I have helped create here on Earth real love with someone, it means that the absence of death. Even said that the whole world in niezanurzony but one drop of true love does not mean anything that is less than the cymbal, bell, or a blank. They said that with an empty love can do great wonders. They said that if love does not, half of the achievements and inventions of mankind simply do not come to effect, because to them at all, but it does not want to move a finger, and the other half would come into effect only because they desire to change and find the meaning of life it would be very strong, and the desire to turn arose in their minds just because they deeply believe in discovering something and work in true love, if not for anything would not be in the world, because it's all love, can drive, if you give it a chance for growth strength. Finally, they told me that heaven is a place of great love and that I wanted to adopt just those who have the most to me, and this is the most in himself, who is madly in love, and where it is equally true of love, and which still in equilibrium at each other interact.

TRUE LOVE OPEN DOORS gradually all of the same name: full compliance.

WORLD'S MOST THIRST be thy gaze when you look at me, and rapidly growing that appears suddenly and in you mind, backed by strong desire: so, what you do.

The main, fundamental principle in every dance is to put the least resistance while dancing, just sailing. In love, in turn, the main principle is the principle, which refers to many things, and to love even more: "first do no harm" and did not resist the loving, tolerant in love by the second person, and love will continue to flourish and increased.

Only years later I met and I realized that love is the most important, as many thousands of years knows the Bible, but in the end I understood. The Bible has already spoken 2000 years, I only really got to know now, the age of 22 years, that love is everything. Life without love is like life without air. What is great suffering, in comparison with the great love that often follows it.

Only years later I met and I realized that love is the most important, as many thousands of years knows the Bible, but in the end I understood.

The Bible has already spoken 2000 years, I only really got to know now, whereas 23 years, that love is everything.

Life without love is like life without air.

What is great suffering, in comparison with the great love that often follows it.

As far a love that is true, everything is possible.

Today is understood, and now I know for sure: the devil makes people with the love, just as his exhortations, pressure, exerting a significant, almost crushing impact, through his temptation of a man goes through life blindly and suffer greatly. So but why history ? I do not know -, I know for it, that it vile, that can make person; it as strip alive life, chances, hope and truth in . It does not know person be for something such even , where it is placed , neither really, that makes so here. Still can not find his place, and everything around it still says what it did a big mistake and does still, as still listens to this absurd and hopeless voice ordering to renounce everything in the name of God, in His name, Satan.

Now I know for sure. It is a progressive road to hell is perfidious and ugly game with his hand. It is very thoughtful tactics, strategy, and really difficult for me to guess that was because I had some mental problems, but now when I know it is there any hope for me to meet, the real fulfillment?

Today, this I know ... Today I know that I do not want me in heaven.

Christ himself said that I love.

MUST NEVER lose hope or faith, but it would never be deprived of true love, if you already got the keys to it.

However, parents are selected, and so I conclude, therefore, that much is very true lovers and love in a very successful marriages. To things. Recent studies have confirmed once again that girls like boys choose as their fathers, boys and girls select the most similar to their mothers. And now the connection and pull the final conclusions:I think with the great certainty that the purpose exists, and that everything it is already up in the air established and tidied up. I mean it, that the wrong-ness in my opinion is giving us so much, how many we need the time at first to choose of one's best parents, from best, being guided probably by divine signs, however the most one's like with the unrestricted and free will-power next not to have to already again so much to give some thought to one's ideal, because had the one person already example of one's ideal to the husband/wife in one's parents, on their faces, in their souls, and finding that ideal is no longer just a matter of time, because, as I wrote, everything is written in the stars, but his faith in the soon to find here is also important, as is the case everywhere and always plays a vital faith, but at least some role in their souls, and finding that ideal is no longer just a matter of time, because, as I wrote, everything is written in the stars, but his faith in the soon to find here is also important, as is the case everywhere and always plays a vital faith, but at least some part. So believe in true love. Believe me, this faith, and every good is a useful and handy to the sure, even now in the same context, what you wish. One thing is certain. Faith is always handy. Faith improves our destiny.

True love supplements, upgrades, refreshes, nourishes and gives meaning and value of even the most trivial matters.

These gains were I to speak more and more that women are created just to love and be loved. It is unfortunate that this has not, and I saw that it was only Now that I understand.

Which wants more partners in relation to mean should first start a conversation. That counts.

When the creeps in the life thy grace of God, do not know completely, and this is for you big, pleasant surprise, as it happens, it happens something so wonderful .. Do not ask and do not hesitate too long over this. Just take it hard and swim with it to happiness and fulfillment, and know that only you came and you are still alive. The grace of God makes that nothing is the same.

At present I am in such a moment of my life, that I am not deserving the sky, at least so much I already suffered, but not here it concerns suffering, but for love. My current suffering means little, because sufficiently love didn't balance them, she didn't suffuse them, or even if she didn't moisten, because it is able tremendously to increase the value of anything, or to restore only a love for it real value.

(...) so that they are healthy, at first you must be crazy out of love to them.

Somebody enchanted with somebody is real.

I am a martyr which doesn't know even what he is suffering up to, but he knows for which of idea: of true love.

True love must emerge; must in the end sail out on believe the excellence from the ocean.

Truly they are only free real in love, and unimportant in anybody with what, can be and own base. Important so that love and feel, that „ with it I wish lives and for it ”.

In order to understand, that it not this/this, sometimes a few moments are needed, and with time and of years.

Not that much he is an art to have a few girls. Rather so that they aren't envious of oneself is a real art.

Help! Unhappy love-calls-do not be afraid-said God-dam, and I will bring you to true love-because only the most effective remedy and the balm for a broken heart is true peace and love.

For Allah loves most those who are his love and this one, the only one. Understanding that God is everything, and can only be achieved only if one already here on earth, with "live" is for you all. No matter what may be in my life have changed, but do not want anyone under his roof assumed for a long time for some other reason than love. Not with no pity, but out of love. I will hold that even if I was to be the same.

Because God the most loves the ones which love him and the one one, only.

Understanding that God is everything, and can only be achieved only if one already here on earth, „with live“ is for you all.

No matter what might happen in my life have changed, but do not want anyone under his assumed roof for a long time for some other reason than love. Not with no pity, but out of love. I will hold that even if I was to be the same.

Now I know that only true love can endure even if everything else suddenly disappeared.

True love and modest hope: here two strongest, most beautiful and most deeply rooted and very difficult to „ of rooting up ” things on this world.

Why taking a bath is so nice and pulling oneself in the nude in the moonlight? - it is very straight, because then a strange impression that everyone are looking is, although nobody is looking. Next, when you are taking a bath in the nude amongst crowds of people everyone are looking,, and you think that nobody is looking. Which from it moral? - always take a bath with the loved person, then everyone are watching it and everyone are looking, because this only person is looking.

Even great favours from the sky are usually turning up at the life of people this way: when one day, at one point you feel that something happened, at least nothing happened. You smell it so clearly, although alone you don't know what it caused. You feel the rising tide of love, faith and enthusiasm in oneself, simply injection of the energy. And it is already perhaps a miracle.

Every true love is for world much-needed.

A lot he is calling on the fact that in the selection of the front-runner he also has the boy, or even somebody more, his positiveness is playing the central role; it is a positiveness in my opinion he is what he is buying, that somebody seems to us with ideal, but for them somebody opty-mistyczniejszy and pogodniejszy, all the more for us perfect;)

With time, for them somebody more is running away from love, all the bigger has the popularity.

Is alone superWoman without his superman, and with what superman without one's superWoman?

Now I already know to what to compare emotions of the conclusive judgement: up to moments, in which it fates of true love are making up their mind. It would be a true ultimate judgement.

Not somebody broke it for me heart. It is I alone for myself broke them. It ached. That's true, but from the own fault.

Unfortunately such a possibility exists, that God can condemn the man only because he didn't love, be too little.

Since God is love, one should so imitate God, because it is appropriate. Let us imitate God.

The loveless man always thinks that nothing is of guards. And let them fall in love and they are crazy about me.

Wonders are a rare occurrence, that's true, but for deeply devout already more often. Since God is love, one should so imitate God, because it is appropriate. Let us imitate God.

A self-confidence constitutes 80 per cent, and 20, these are talent and abilities of the future success. And I will say more: 100 entire per cent what I believe, in to constitute the future success perhaps the one one, only person, because can be for us one and second and to arouse in us one and second, more, than alone in himself could the one somebody is eating to wake.

The superman, or the superwoman are persons in the pretended connection which are lifting this second person still, every now and then higher, all the way to tall stars, heedless to adversities.

Getting back home without this only loved person, even full of guests, he is like coming back to the empty grave, where it in the grave is probably even better, because in it at least someone's presence is felt: a presence of God is feeling, and in it „ empty ” of house there higher, even is sometimes no it.

There is true love from it so that she emerges alone, practically from nowhere,
Practically not around reality,
Practically not for none other;

Practically only for you, practically only in your and for your life;
Practically for in order to be, even if you didn't want,
Practically for in order to fight, even when you are running away from her,
Practically so that give everything back to you and give back still,
Practically demanding nothing in exchange,
Practically being a clean concertina and a good,
And practically for free existing in your life to be...
Practically for you for everyone and you everyone feeling for her.
Practically alone he/she is emerging, kind of from nowhere.

True love most willingly is supporting lofty dreams.

I need true love for instance from this simple fact that they are able very much to support dreams.

Living without love is possible, but then this life isn't love; then living is suffering, and the death and the life can be like dying in torments. and you everyone feeling for her. Practically alone he/she is emerging, kind of from nowhere.

What to whom today yesterday love-ask-answer you briefly, in one sentence: if it was not „yesterday's love“ somebody now no dear, the total unhappily in love would not have any strength to live, because even though this „yesterday's love“ could last for a short , it is believed in and lived in it through this even a short time, but he was happy, but the memories are forever and are quite capable of „Memories can assail the abyss“. Yours.

I believe it deeply, that even all the lost years will be able to catch up and compensate for, if it's been true love. I'm convinced.

Life without love is a great time wasting, but now lives surrounded by real love offset and justify all those lost years.

I discovered that the meaning of life is love-what others already know hundreds if not thousands of years.

Lost time, the years can, if at all possible, of course, but in what I believe through a significant concentration of catch good moments every day, so that each of the days that the future was very successful, and this play in particular is able to make true love.

If each sage is a wise man just because he loves, then if I would be called a wise man now, it's also just because I love ... now his future partner.

„I'm the best, most wonderful, most wonderful and provided the perfect girlfriend“-if anyone could say otherwise, and to talk about his one, true love?-Probably not.

Our whole road is, and all of its meaning is such that in the end rely on someone and trust unconditionally.

If true love among us and in us reign, reign in us, and other divine virtues.

I want you to be a natural-naturalness of her, especially with me.

To even true love in relation to introduced so much good, as should enter, he must receive some part of freedom of both , even a particle.

Here's a question that is now the most I would like to reply, and I would like to know, and what's bothering me extremely: if living, and joining in marriage can be and then develops wings and flourishes and then, as never before?-Because I think so, and may be very willing to spend?.

You ask me whether peace really brings so much good in the life of that calm and relaxed?-I will answer you by saying: sure, no anxiety, fear, or stress, or stress to be something for no reason, for reasons of peace and relaxation is a lot, just to mute and they will for sure. It feels like true love, because real peace has to do with true love, because they like the same material.

Aphorism on the basis of one of scenes of series Fri. " the M like love " (I think, that real (in accordance with the truth)): - where this tea? - they asked and they called halves, in true love in the bedroom, to two boys and two in the process of their second halves, in the kitchen somehow so slothful, yeah not in the sauce and anxious for the future and the fulfilment. - Already, already- full of enthusiasm, have found joy and the optimism once again meaning of one's life. They ran as soon as possible to their chosen ones of hearts and they hugged them close, in the process dispelling all gloomy thoughts, anxiety, fear and the pessimism.

Nothing better, truer and more pleasing to the man on the true love.

No years, nor any year may not be executed if he sought, or intended to continue clearly true love and to find her.

"Even the best love they can not create ourselves"-says a brilliant aphorism-that is true. You can only create glimpses, seen and felt only the most "favorable wind", the gifts of fate and absolutely by the grace of heaven: then it would be even true love, but we must remember the fact that it usually takes at best a few moments, because is not that other person beside us, and not grounded, and if you link to our true love would have to be addressed.

IF I HAVE THE TALENT, IS MY DUTY disinterested is to ensure YOU AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF HOW IT CAN ONLY fullest at any cost I have to protect ... AND IT MUST GO ... I HAVE TO KEEP LOVE. In my humble opinion most fully bloomed BY surrounded by true love.

Each of true love is extraordinary, exceptional, unique and above average for both, for each other, each / every ... love / love with thinking / thinking, and who / which is satisfied / satisfied that it is just that ...

Why love is the best "background" to the romance? He reflected in his human desires, aspirations and dreams that are reciprocated in love pair are ideal conditions for human life, are ideal conditions in which everyone is thirsty drank juicy background consume their feelings and przyswoi have the same emotions of their reading.

True love is there that she came suddenly, unexpectedly, uninvited.

The mere knowledge that someone wants you to live, it can make in the lives of your people more good than 1000 flatterers of your people of the same sex.

1 person of the opposite sex can bring more good than 1000 of the same.

How many projects have failed to now, if not support a woman?-lot.

True love is there that it bloomed and bloomed REALLY STILL THE MOST BEAUTIFUL FEATURES, abilities and talents of both.

Forgetting about someone in true love is worse than the so-called death, in reality, because after such a rejection is dying every day, but not all of the resurrected. That feeling and the feeling is so strong that they know about it also you who even slightly musneḷi them, probably including myself.

I am truly themselves only in the moments when I feel I feel alive and real love.

Maybe God wanted you to know many evil people until you know that good, so you can recognize it when it finally appears - says the famous aphorism, in true love However, so that is good, you meet will always be visible to us, even among themselves other good, because it is the best, because this one.

[...] And true love must be "dosed" and presented to the moderation, or else that someone dear can go mad from excess of happiness), because "what a lot of it is not healthy" - that immortal saying verified in this case.

Whenever a man would know how to behave in case of adversity, and even knew about it all, these are moments in which he looks at someone for some, even a modest confirmation of this knowledge, or remind yourself of its validity. The ultra-check this to be true love.

True love has nothing to do with artifice.

True love is life, what God wanted for us to see from the beginning.

Only true love gives true freedom.

Great leaders have not given to the council, if not their women.

True love gives you a feeling of sweet freedom and security.

Every criminal is a person deprived of love. Man fleeing from love, sooner or later overwhelm dopadaja thinks he is war criminal.

A man who kills himself in love, a great war criminal, because in the kill hundreds if not thousands of beautiful feelings and thus shared important, beautiful and sublime events that often occur among the lovers of true love. They see the world differently, and much rosy color, which is so fortunate as they ought to see, which leads to and are happy with their life, eventually killing all the places where love could occur, however, have less love of killing is a sin.

I guess to be completely fulfilled man, you probably had to be completely free, or go mad in love with true love. Day after day without love is not just torture. It is also colorless, dull, without narrative action and moving story about the inherent strength and no sense of composition, except that the whole miserable story revolves still waiting quietly for true love.

Were it not for faith in Christ would be condemned.

Even a deep faith in Christ, and shall compensate, at best, only a fraction of a lack of true love, unless you draw that up from him was real and great love.

Super lover so it could be so good as to expect from each other, and this is why someone with her above-average may also be good, since this is also expected from him. Same with real love, and expect it, and find it in himself, and soon may attend. Expect it from someone and give you everything.

There is no power over true love.

Here is a visible manifestation of an angel love in true love, which is the truth and ensure that it is always carried a natural, and never cursed.

EVERY DAY IS ALWAYS unimportant, if it is not filled with true love /.

SKY UP WITHOUT Beloved must be probably comparable, if not worse to the same hell, for what that so much beauty around there and breathe it, since it can not be in e know how to enjoy it, because he knows that this beauty was to 1000 times more beautiful and felt if she was here, that one, here was a beloved, if ... and that all this beauty without it is completely meaningless. Well for someone that is if he found himself in heaven alone? - Boredom with \ despair of powerlessness that is hell.

There is strong over true love.

But what would life without love?-What life without knowing that someone watches over us. Life without love is like a life without God.

Sometimes that true love is the only effective way to rebound from the bottom.

How do you know that once deeply not blurred and not believe in true love the second one you intended in this love, at the same time firmly not believe in you, not the files will be overwritten, just for you, for your love and your future together.

„Speak in a whisper when talking about love“ - written by Shakespeare. I write about true love, so I write half whisper.

True love is much more geared to give than to take.

You ask me why I have not spoken so much time on his sufferings, and here is my answer: I did so for true love, because it is still seen and still see it and so silent that I noticed , because if she saw me suffering possible prey that drew me out of pity, and I do not want pity or mercy. I want true love, pure love. /

Men marry beautiful women with a few basic reasons:

- To feast the eye and the senses.
- To soak the body.
- To fit in the other in the envy and amazement his chosen one.

True love, something I see as the most beautiful in the world, the most beautiful behavior, feelings without artifice, without pretending but necessarily with a dose of madness and extravagance, with elements of risk and anxiety, with the original shades of being decorated and colored them good will, clear mind, optimism, beauty, truth and hope. Maybe it sounded a bit trite, but I see it, but I know that this could be my beautiful vision.

If in a natural way and in accordance with his wishes will cause, with my talent will continue to bloom and grow when you are at the most together, as I said, it will let you to be very close to me, and I will make you love me, as soon as you wanted.

To a great and an exceptional value is the true love of them shows that the whole sky is filled with it, and if God in heaven could not afford to invest in something more valuable and better-probably not, because of better and more beautiful apparently does not exist, and heaven knows how souls live infinitely, and still not bored with love, and live play "life", So what she has to give strength and will to live, since it is still the most prestigious, and most important asset in the cosmos, and there is no evidence that the soon to be changed, because there is no equal, and a long, long, long time equals have not.

Now I know that true love is the only source of energy, light, truth and life.

I was at the bottom, in hell, and great despair. With all that bringeth thanks to a strong and deep faith in true love, and heaven, that there is.

Love, in which one party dominates the ...

Love in which one party dominates much love is called a toxic, if both wish to strongly dominate the tragedy and drama, as all are natural and true: true love.

Only time is constant and unchanging next true love.

Love, compassion is not acceptable, unless it is something more

Love, compassion is the same as forced charity, and as we know nothing of power, especially in this matter.

Only a long, blissful peace even without the support of charity is often a great way to despair.

Why do the vast majority of people choose, and the importance of increased interest in the opposite sex? - Because they wish to acquire, explore and touch them with an unknown nice eyes, ears, senses and soul;Wish to get to where nobody was, to reach his thoughts over the horizons, and even more than this world because they want very much, and yet willing to learn the second,unknown, although very interesting, interesting and fantastic universe, because this one is less interesting universe, it is this person of interest in this wonderful second universe, and the deep belief that it is everything that a person needs to be happy, and to fully life, because every two universes, not one;; _)

This is more free to love, who are less involved, but whether this one person is more satisfied than the more active, that I do not know.

True love is not life itself. True love is a veritable masterpiece of life.

Couples and marriage should be for two people each, and all the rest must still wait for his second a half.

Already today, send us your name. Yes, his name, because as you know the name of the sweetest word in the world, let alone name, and why the send us your name;-that is, to send us, or people skólatanym their fate truest part of his soul and the most luminous, but not belonging to you.Send us a joyful part of it, and very lofty, to comfort us and lift our spirits to our refreshed me, that someone is really happy with and not having such a great treasure, which is Thy only girl, so please send us in her beaming smile in esemesie signed her name, and it will be glad ;-)]]

Now I believe that love can be a source of great wisdom.

Even now I know how, great wisdom can be derived under the influence of free love, that is true love.

You are as gentle breeze, which for me is all.

A man who enjoys taking everything out of nothing but love, is happy with literally nothing, because I enjoy the void. And why is that lucky? - Answer is simpler than it might seem: because the vacuum is true and sincere feelings of happiness and feelings characteristic of true love,and directly related. Put simply this man enjoys the true happiness of others, while he pretends to be happy, just enjoy the happiness of others, not their,because even the greatest treasure, the greatest wealth and without true love is nothing like a morning mist, like it is, but it does not exist, because there's this one in itself. Each treasure is treasure without love. And the greatest treasure and inseparable as a great treasure of all is love. When there is love and treasure of material, then it is everything. When it is materiality, and there is no spirituality there is nothing.

Living without love is something sadder and frostier than very death.

The mere awareness of two of our love in our life can make our creativity has increased twice, than it would be only one love, for he could no longer something to be associated with true love, but one true love can give more than three "ordinary" love, fleeting, ephemeral.

Do not fight, do not even try to never fight with love. Fight for it for love, whenever you need and the occasion arise, to something better, and there's always this opportunity.

Any couple in love is a separate, much more beautiful world, and each alone is a slow wind between the world of lovers, and lonely, who still goes to one, then to another. For the first time when he felt that someone thought about it that someone like him, to the second turn, when he feels that there is no one, and that there is someone to come, but it is always someone you love, although it may even know about it, but you will learn for sure.

Free wind is still searching for fulfillment in itself.

The separate world of lovers find it a long time in each other.

Free wind at times feels a momentary blast of energy.

The separate world of love he feels himself falling in love soothing atmosphere.

Free wind goes to nowhere, being everywhere.

The separate world of lovers will follow the fulfillment of being nowhere.

It is always better and preferable for us to believe in that which is good, noble, as close to our hearts.

As for the moment, the year that life begins when a person starts becoming aware of and understand that love is most important, that is the meaning of life, even if it was love for himself, but from something you have to start to begin to live truly.

How much lighter would work hard if you were here, knowing that for someone important doing it to thy heart. If I toiled hard for you it would be worth if you were here.

Their lives could stock summarized as follows: unconscious search for an alternative to love, and it is not found because the other simply does not exist, and sought more than 21 springs. Just the other is not and probably will not.

Who wants to get around love, is finding only suffering, always.

Problem too of loving, or loving with limited love he consists in appreciating somebody too much, be too little.

Peace, will always accept the solitude of everyone passive.

Patience, joy and happiness to take the time each of serenity, contrast, true love and prestige not only to take the faithful, yearning for their need of assistance, worth their word. Though as they say: "love is free", but various cases in the world, a lot.

Wisdom to let someone you love is the truly wise, true and correct especially in the early to know, because nothing like this love does not work, as well as time and the time is, and if you give someone back, it is yours, and if not, never to you do not belong. I think it is right and necessary, very useful. So check in later life relationship, and this is where the earlier is worth all our love.

If I had for myself was always an enigma, perhaps discover the self to the end, captured and understood as never before, and no one understood each other thoroughly, but still probably not suffice me time to do it, and I think I gained a little in total. Quite the contrary, it would be if someone would be such a mystery to me. Then it would be. We learned that we another person's spirituality, and it would only meet.

True love is not to select 1 of the only possible, but on selecting 1 out of every possible and impossible desires to select one word, only the quintessence of perfection "only" perfection. True love knows on the job like no other.

All spoken words must reach somewhere. Any sentence must be designed to relate to something that is really, really, because without this great freedom from despair to be mingled, and result from the unbearable thought: here I am alone, and everywhere void, p [it is similar to the imagination: the need to touch this, what dream, feel, feel it, what a dream and try this, what dreams and wishes always. Oh! Here-if you were true love!

There is no better place in memory of someone, as the brain, and feelings to someone, like a heart, surrounded by the influences of immortals like ribbons of emotional and romantic light, and the places where these people could walk and discover in us the beauty and truth. Let them wander among the cells of our hearts so that they can discover our pure intentions, harmony, and goodness.

Only love can give true love true freedom. Why?-Because freedom is not satisfied, saturated, and that soaking can give only true love, plus the freedom that can give real freedom. Love is often a consequence of our wandering without purpose or meaning, because love always comes in time.

True love is that when one half would be completely exempt from gravity, so that would be hung above the earth, to the extent that it did not touch her feet would never land, and the latter is still riveted tkwiłaby thick chains of gravitation, or adversity fate, or being depressed, was in so much courage and desire to make sure that person is able to soar up high, and that the ascent is still continued in the sense that she had not committed to the collapse of his second half. This is true love: "the continuance of good and bad, in health and disease ... ".

True love requires one thing: to locate it in all his future, but you have to do with lightness, because it could happen, what often happens: the most excellent investment in our lives.

Everything is related to love, or lack of it.

Now I know that only true love, in love, the earth opens up great treasures, and each new day of grace is preparing, and every glance of his / her is like looking at the sunset the first time in my life at the same time knowing that another would be even more beautiful, and that a day of welcome radośniejszym attitude, the nightingale singing in the soul of happiness, and the irresistible temptation of the great flame in the heart of this being his second half and give it everything, expecting nothing in return, a reward, the greatest reward is receiving in his mind, that she is his treasure of treasures, because here it is .. just for him and only him .. everything.

Love?-I ask myself about the value and meaning of its occurrence in their lives, yes, but only true on the other I simply can not afford, because only true love is free and free-answer after many sleepless nights and lonely days himself.

Edyta Bartosiewicz may be right that if one person leaves in a true love somehow, from the second half, the person will have little, if not very little capacity to deal with quickly. It's impossible alone. The only solution here is probably again fall in love with another finding true love and his second star from heaven, if it so easy to lose even if it only shoot with their hands.

A place where there is a house of our beloved true love is always the most beautiful place in the universe.

All the love lives, as everything is alive with light. Give me Lord, JCH, and if you only PLEASE dozen beautiful girls, or one true love, with a clear an indication of the latter.

True love does not make it spring? Spring makes regular, even daily, as soon as winter is approaching in the heart.

True love is based on continuous learning about the other person by that other person, and, perhaps above all, between the lines, and at the same time marveled at it all, what else do not know, and what is important for you.

Do you really think that true love is celebrating something so ephemeral and trivial, like money? Do you think that it flies on trinkets, jewelry, luxury, and general wealth instead of looking at man? - You see not-true love interest only to a man, and specifically speaking one, the only particle in thy soul, which is so necessary that the other person, like air, it is very possible that, even when you're lonely and you do not have with him his stars, it might live through it and looking forward to life and literally, and applies to all people, because if they did not feel that anyone, even the remote thought of them, it would not want them to live. Everything on this earth lives with love, like everything is alive with light, and no one is in a position to deny, nor never will because it is the simplest and most obvious conclusion is the man soon came up with ..This particle is responsible for all of the most successful marriages on earth, and its lack determines the defeat, ruin, and ultimately the collapse of a divorcing couple. This piece is all because the most expensive of all the treasures of the universe, and this piece is only intended for one person and vice versa. It is no wonder that any meeting of such couples is a veritable feast, while raised and very important.

Everyone should do everything with the idea of true love, it is his duty, even if it does not exist, the idea that each of his act drew her to him, if it is lonely.

When there is true love between two people who are no inanimate objects, no outline and no visible for single items can be used by them completely unnoticed (but mentioned that they can, and do not, they must, but it is a bit further). For them, there are no walls, walls, or the whole world does not exist, only the two closest to the people on Earth, provided a clean living in a paradise with no trace of suffering. And all things visible and invisible flash of energy and vibrate their great affection, and the universe provides them hundreds each day, hundreds of future things, which can be proud, and which, in turn, have not yet seen, but felt. And besides they are visible only in part by the great re-cluse wishing, dreaming and believing in the feeling that they feel all the time, but he could only dream about them, and for these two, whose true love reigns, all these beautiful things are felt, not to say the tangible and visible. They are presented to them and discovered gradually, with great wealth drawn to them by fate, nothing more beautiful on earth. That's because gradually, as the fate of a well-know and realize that this very much in love, happiness does not need to, because everything is extraordinary and outstanding, even plain, withered leaves may be their life and fulfillment.

Do you love needs time to bloom? I do not know, I know for this, and I know the cases in which true love is born in a moment in a great, fierce emotions and survived life both in the form of an equally great.

Look at the heart of the heart.

True love knows after that, it gives a refreshing as mountain water, a cleaner from a mountain stream, and can climb higher than the highest mountains meet.

Once, when can I have this one, only, I will tell her and awareness sincerest truth only because you have lived in the wider sense, because it will be sincere to the truth.

Please do not travel all that travel to find this one, the only true love.

The true love can not be of any forcing, imitating anyone or anything by force, or any artifice, because true love lives in the fullness of life and the rays of divinity illuminating their life with ease, illuminating them so light, that the people with them, even loosely bound, even distant friends or relatives, even they fail to feel the power of truth, beauty and divine love, clearly present in true love. Indeed, nowhere more naturally, with any other nationality, in any religion, any trend or any religion so much good will be able to find.

True love exists in those from whose hearts have already been released and are still together despite the vast distances that may divide them, and when I listen to reason he must arrest the heart, which still dreams and desires, and when the cold evening weather is so and heat that the other person is and we think that no frost is not able to change that, when the yearning, a moment of unspeakable grief and longing is so strong, even just after leaving the house of one such person, the other calls already, and she longs for, and when reason has nothing to say, when he says is still the heart, then it is true love, when it is good and when the air is still hovering in their minds the beautiful and noble and inspiring dreams, and when no one no harm and only wants to help, when nothing is done by force, but everything in them is as natural as their breathing.

Only in the relationship between people who are mutually supportive and add one to comfort and strength each other, IF ONLY THE NEED IS RELIABILITY THAT THIS IS NOT IN NO EVENT WILL LOVE toxic. AND THAT any person in this relationship is not a toxic BO IS ALREADY BE TRUE LOVE.

Better to be executed in two than condemned travelers.

Circled the earth hundreds of times. Climbed to the top of mountain peaks spiritually. I visited the entire universe, to understand that we go into the light: the light is worth living. This light, the sun is for everyone in the entire universe is nothing else like true love.

There are actually only two ways for each connection, which goes each pair: either to meet their full conformity and harmony, or the gradual samospalenie full of contradictions. Not mentioned is a small love affairs. The first way you have presented is true love, or love the other, where one dominates, and / or the very old and engaged, even more than his power, or love toxic.

What makes people, even on the two ends are connected by the sensor to each other, even if you did not see not even met. How do they feel his spiritual presence. How is this possible? - I know only one answer, although there may be yet another, or some other extra, but I think that is closest to the truth: our awareness of this cause. It comes and goes because when he wants. Awareness of this, believe it or not, can circulate and circling over the fate of other people so much, maybe so long that you begin Individuals like you, and sometimes even love. In this way very often are born great and true love. The person who here!" Consciousness of the other, is in itself a gift from the great gift of enthusiasm and faith, that this one / one is real. And trying to attract and wishes, and he / she the same to him, wishing the best in the world. This person also knows what really expects and wants to seek and continue to aim for the meeting from which everything begins.

Sigh for the one and only true love: It hanker me wishing, desiring heart, dimly senses, feel the skin, accepting all the heart and breath every moment of relief and relaxation. Awake when it arises, knowing that I was alive, but just because you think about me and feel my presence in his soul. I live just because you are. Remember this always.

Two people in love are truthfully as one person and one soul ripped as one note. And there is nothing more beautiful in this world, like two notes. There is nothing more beautiful in music, as well as repeated note of the originality of the greatest symphonies. Nothing is more valuable ... There is nothing as priceless as two notes, the symphony increasingly growing, can continue indefinitely. Spiritual development of these two individuals is provided in ideal conditions. And life is completely different, there is paradise is paradise. This is not a paradise in which Adam and Eve fled to the great original sin and rebellion. No. Here, where everyone and everyone loves, because how could it be otherwise when there is such love, and on the thrones of us:

the fullest-a truly divine-man.

Love always triumph's.

Square and the landscape after the war. Two people survived in the city-a chosen couple, one intended. Destiny will always find the path.

Ever goes wrong, goes with her, and love. Whenever you approach a vision of war is approaching a vision of love, assisted by a spark of hope in the hearts of men. When there is no hope, joy comes comforted by the love of the Creator. When there is a chance to change something in our love reigns. If one true love, only she would be able to protect the whole of humanity and overcome the evil in the world, have carried out this, but you need to just these two people. And she-god and the queen of all the truths of deities in us and in the universe: a true love for us and the entire universe, but since we born.

You tell me that nobody loves you not, does not like, no respect, that you do not have support from the top or here on Earth, that you are adored and worshiped here on Earth?-If you do not feel great comfort in even despair. If you do not feel the force of the daily struggle for life and strength, if you do not feel even the great moments and creative, full of heat power. And if you do not feel it then, with all its positive "content". And if you do not feel it if each of its atom, is you is not here, not live, do not exist, it was never you. Indeed, without it you would not survive one day, unless you're a plant, but she needs light to live.

True love is true love: can forgive everything. He can also release or break, just to go back and forgive. Love is the essence and the true queen of all love. So, do not understand it completely. Can be often unpredictable, to have their storms, the ups and downs. Although the queen is, and sometimes it can learn from their servants, much less those of charity, but only in order to improve on, and that after all these zawirowaniach, be able to say without words:"between us is getting better".

Who will find the marriage for the benefits will be inexhaustible.

The more I find someone in the marriage, the better disappear ANY Weaknesses in him, and transformed into ONE in increased benefits, or whatever evil AND ALL IN IT, AND DOES DO PLACE FOR ANY AND EVERY GOOD. words: GOOD AND BENEFITS IS more, and evil as for medicine, I REALLY: SOME BLOOD MUST BE PRESENT TO THE BENEFIT OF THIS AND IT constituted.

true love is key part of the Infinite Love revealed to us through Jesus Christ. and TOC REDEMPTION, AT THE SITE ARE STILL IN THE BACKGROUND, over 2 thousand. YEARS.

Separate award from the hardships, how to separate life from love.

These couples are better matched that in his "depth" depth of their souls to find better.

God in creating man, he knew all his defects and possible advantages, and even more. He knew every pattern of action, so that he could predict his every gesture and every step of the finger leg, eyelid twitch, or a nod. This was the true God. Centuries ago, ruled as king of kings, once he even very bloody carnage we created was served to us the same.

But for some time now, he does not interfere in us all. Once he learns this because myself and swore to himself that he never more: do not raise their hand.

Things like that, but these words keeps constantly. It's war, ktastrofy, whether natural disasters or tragedies. He is watching with us, teach us still very, proud to be us then to himself. He's watching what is happening and also suffer along with us. We showed great love and trust us so greatly that even renounced to know:

Know more than we know: He comes in fact with us in time and the future does not even know. We are more than anything in the cage: we are totally free.

Who is running to him, in him or her get help, who refused, will be rejected, and it will gain. "Help yourself and heaven will help you"-a lot of help, and every time you offer it to you, he gives you his sky-is enshrined in law, divine.

God in creating man, he knew all his defects and possible advantages, so that he could predict his every step and movement, God knew the pattern well, but the screenplay by force-is a complex issue. The same scenario says that he, too, man.

Ize our creator knows well about this, let us be who we want, but not the end: Those "life", is also one of His will for us. Thus, when listening to yourself, you can see his voice. He does not like us to interfere, but he found another and has another on the way: He speaks to us constantly.

God is everywhere, at any place, any time. He knows a lot, he knows what best for you. It also seeks to provide you. You also want to assure you of the love of his mature and infinite.

God gives us a helping constantly: He is everywhere, He is in us and for us.

Every coin has two sides, it is true, but too much focus on the negative rather than on the good, distorts the whole meaning of the existence of that coin, and our life is something of quality.

The pain of Jesus Christ in His death momecnie was literally crushing and overwhelming. And His suffering hardly offset his huge and incomprehensible love.

Do you love that does not forgive, still bears the name of love?

Blood is blood, just because he loves.

Sex is, though not always, the most "tangible" evidence of great / true love between two people to each other.

Where is my consciousness!? No matter where, it's important that it is nice ..;)

Faith (2009)

It is a collection of my positive thoughts aphorisms closed in, the strength of faith. The fact that we always believe in themselves and their faith. I wanted to include in them something timeless and magic, the beauty of the world, the meaning of life, As faith presents one of foundation of perception world beautiful and life of this beauty.

The truth about death. The truth about life (2010)

Two my author's essays, yeah a poem and an essay can: I wanted to include in it, most briefly, as it only possible; kind of essence: about the nitty-gritty of the life and the death.

PRAWDA O ŚMIERCI; PRAWDA O ŻYCIU (2010)

Dwa moje autorskie eseje, no może poemat i esej: chciałem w niej zawrzeć, najkrócej, jak to tylko możliwe; jakby esencję: o sednie życia i śmierci.

Minihorror (2010)

Short story, however, it more epic poem (proper). I wanted to make easy parody of horror, as if these literature forms called to essence that horror hitting paste. It easy tale very, but concretely opinions few .

Stop, and fair womenfolk (2010)

Light essays about the secrets of women's shoe store, and at bus stops: that is the whole truth, what they do really.

„I do not praise, because I do not want to sell” -Shakespeare (2010)

You can praise everything from skyscrapers it their own opinion, Shakespeare shoe did of notes trades that too many things and times to compliment, ace in are in gratitude for something zz great humility. This is an essay about it.

Adult conversation, but rather with an adult child on death (2010)

Mini-adult dialogue with your child about the paradoxically close to everyone, about the death.

I apologize for such a theme, but the topic fascinates me, because it is the hope and the message: try to live with death as you want.
